

Contents

List of Illustrations, Figures, Maps and Tables	vii
Introduction	1
Jeroen Rodenberg, Pieter Wagenaar and Gert-Jan Burgers
Part I. Framework: Theories of Heritage, Public Administration and Political Science
Chapter 1. Understanding the Governance of Heritage: A Plea for Using Public Administration Theories in Heritage Studies	7
Jeroen Rodenberg and Pieter Wagenaar
Chapter 2. Interacting with Governance: A Public Administration Perspective on Interactive Governance for Heritage Studies	28
Pieter Wagenaar and Jeroen Rodenberg
Chapter 3. From ‘Democratic Turn’ to ‘Agonistic Approach’: Understanding Participation from the Perspective of Mouffe’s Agonistic Pluralism	53
Jarik Chambille
Part II. Top-Down Closed Interactive Heritage Governance: Stakeholder Participation
Chapter 4. Building a Community of Practice in a Roman Heritage Landscape	71
Rob Collins, Graham Fairclough and Sam Turner
Chapter 5. Crafting Castella: Why Interactive Governance Led to Success in Reconstructing a Castellum in Utrecht but Not in Leiden	93
Eline Amsing, Pieter Wagenaar, Jeroen Rodenberg and Hans Renes
Chapter 6. Participatory Heritage Planning Policy in Coastal Europe: Lessons from the HERICOAST Project	116
Linde Egberts

Part III. Top-Down Open Interactive Heritage Governance: Citizen Participation

Chapter 7. Go On, I Dare You! Heritage, Archaeology and Meaningful Participation in the UK 143
Cath Neal

Chapter 8. Barriers to Public Participation in Memorialization
Processes: Evidence from the Dutch Holocaust Memorial of Names 162
Alana Castro de Azevedo

Chapter 9. Delisting Dresden: Bridging Local Interests and International Obligations 189
Bart Zweegers

Part IV. Bottom-up Open Interactive Heritage Governance: Governing the Public Good and Common Pool Resources

Chapter 10. White Lions in South Africa: A Living Heritage 209
Jason Turner and Harry Wels

Part V. Bottom-up Closed Interactive Heritage Governance: Governing Common Pool Resources

Chapter 11. From Paradigm Shift to Practice: Experimenting
Innovation in Participatory Heritage Making 233
Gert-Jan Burgers, Christian Napolitano and Ilaria Ricci

Chapter 12. Participation as an Effective Way to Stimulate Multivocality in Heritage Discourse? 251
Nana Zheng and Gert-Jan Burgers

Conclusion 270
Pieter Wagenaar and Jeroen Rodenberg

Index 274